

European Society for Trauma and Dissociation

L'ESTD a été fondée en 2005 avec la participation de l'IPJ.

Extrait du site web : the missions are to promote the knowledge of Trauma & Dissociation , to provide education about dissociation & trauma, to support communication among clinicians, to stimulate international research projects, to provide knowledge to countries in Europe who do not have easy access in this field.

MISSION STATEMENTS

The European Society for Trauma and Dissociation was founded in April 2006. This followed a period of active planning and collaboration with professional colleagues from over 17 countries in Europe as well as with the Executive Council of the International Society for the Study of Trauma and Dissociation \(ISSTD\).

The establishment of the European Society for Trauma and Dissociation (ESTD) was strongly supported by the ISSTD with whom we have close ties.

AIMS OF THE ESTD

- To promote an increase in the knowledge of Trauma, Dissociation and all disorders related to chronic traumatization.
- To provide professional and public education about dissociation, trauma and trauma related disorders.
- To support communication and cooperation among clinicians and other professionals in the field of dissociation and trauma.
- To stimulate national and international research projects.
- To provide knowledge and education specifically to those countries in Europe who do not have easy access in this field.